

Sing with Me

One quiet morn I heard a cry,
A sound as gentle as a lullaby
And all it said as clear as can be is,
"Won't you come and sing with me?"
And so we sing where e'er we go
an ancient song from long ago.
And as we sing and travel along we ask,
"Oh won't you share our song?"

Sing with me, come join your voice with mine.
Sing with me and make this moment shine.
You and I together, can't you see,
Can fill this world with harmony.
Let's fill this world with harmony.

Then one by one they joined along.
And one by one people joined our song.
And then at last from each girl and boy poured out a song of love and joy.

Sing with me, come join your voice with mine.
Sing with me and make this moment shine.
You and I together, can't you see,
Can fill this world with harmony.

Sing with me, come join your voice with mine.
Sing with me and make this moment shine.
You and I together, can't you see,
Can fill this world with harmony.

Let's fill with world with harmony.
Sing with me.

Descant

Won't you sing with me, come join, join your voice with mine
Won't you sing with me and make, and make this moment shine.
You and I can fill this world with harmony, harmony
"Won't you sing with me?"
